Murlin, President [Boston University] June 1915

June 30th, 1915

President Murlin,

Boston University.

Dear President Murlin:

Since returning to Toronto I have made inquiries about Mr. L. R. Eckhardt. He graduated in the General Course in 1902, taking a very good position. Why he did not take an honours course I do not know. On Saturday I met one of his former professors, and whose judgment as to his intellectual capacity I should rely upon, and he told me that he had a high opinion of Mr. Eckhardt.

I have also made inquiries as to other possible men in Toronto for the position and have heard of none whom I should like to recommend as above Eckhardt. Unfortunately at this time of the year most of the Professors have already left the city, and I cannot get more accurate information for you. Also Professors as a rule know less about students who take the General Course than those who take honour courses. However, I should judge from what I have heard of Mr. Eckhardt that he was a very good man while he was here.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
